1. These Conditions apply to all orders and contracts for the supply of any goods by B-Star Wheels Limited ("the Company") to the Company's customers ("the Customer") and no variation of these conditions is to have any effect unless accepted in writing by the Company.
2. These conditions and any contract made in accordance with them shall be subject to and construed in accordance with English Law.
3. All quotations made by the Company shall be invitations to trade and all orders placed by Customers shall be in writing and shall be subject to acceptance in writing by the Company.
4. Trade terms used in all documents which form part of the contract of which these conditions form part shall (save where they are inconsistent with these conditions) be interpreted in accordance with the International Rules for the interpretation of Trade Terms prepared by the International Chamber of Commerce (Incoterms) in force at the date hereof.

Health and Safety

5. All goods of whatever description and whether subject to special requirements or to the Company's specifications as to their use quality or fitness for any purpose are supplied on condition that the Customer ensures that the goods are of an appropriate type and size for the vehicle to which they will be fitted and that where applicable the directions and advice given by the Company in its leaflet entitled "Wheel and tyre installation" and strictly observed and that its contents be specifically drawn to the attention of all their employees.

Specification

6. All special requirements of the Customer as to the use quality or fitness for any purpose of goods required to be supplied must be stated in writing on the Customer's order for such goods.
7. If there are no special requirements stated in the Customer's order as to the use or the quality or the fitness for any purpose of goods required to be supplied then the order shall be deemed to be for goods appropriate for the uses and of the quality and fit for the purposes as are indicated for goods of their description as appear in the Company's specifications which are available for the Customer at the Company's offices and shall be deemed to be goods supplied without reference to any sample. Any recommendations or suggestions relating to the goods made by or on behalf of the Company either in technical literature or in response to a specific enquiry or otherwise are given in good faith but it is the sole responsibility of the Customer to satisfy itself as to the suitability of the goods for a particular purpose and the Company shall have no responsibility whatsoever to the Customer or any third party through following such recommendations.

8. The Company reserves the right to alter the specifications of any goods without prior reference to the Customer provided that such alteration does not reduce the standard of the previous specification or conflict with the special requirements in the Customer's order.

9. Where specifications or designs are to be supplied by the Customer the Customer shall supply the same in reasonable time to enable the Company to complete delivery within the period named.

10. (1) In the case of damaged goods or shortage of delivery or non-conformity with order, written notice must be given by the Customer to the Company and where appropriate to the carrier concerned within three days, followed by a complete claim in writing within five days, both from the date of delivery.

(2) Where goods are accepted from the carrier concerned without being checked, the delivery documents must be signed "not examined".

(3) In the case of loss of goods notice in writing must be given to the carrier and to the Company within fourteen days of the date of consignment.

(4) In default of compliance with the foregoing provisions of this clause the Customer shall not be entitled to refuse to take delivery of the goods or any part of them.

11. (1) Where the contract is for delivery in instalments defects in quality or dimensions in any delivery shall not be a ground for cancellation of the remainder of the contract.

(2) Goods to be returned by the Customer are to be done so at the Customer's expense.

Time for Delivery

12. Where a period is named for delivery and is not extended by mutual agreement in writing then subject to the rights of the Company to suspend delay or cancel delivery the Customer shall take delivery within that period.

13. The Company reserves the right to make part deliveries.

14. Although the Company will use its best endeavours to deliver goods at the rate and at the time quoted for delivery, it shall not be liable for any loss or damage arising from its failure to do so.

15. Deliveries may be wholly or partially suspended and the time of such suspension added to the original contract period in the event of a stoppage, delay or interruption of work in the establishment of either the Company or the Customer during the delivery period as a result of strikes, lock outs, trade disputes, break-down, accident or any cause whatsoever beyond the control of the Company or the Customer respectively.

16. In the event of an outbreak of hostilities (whether war is declared or not) in which the United Kingdom is involved or in the event of National emergency, the Company shall be entitled at any time without any further obligations to the Customer, but without prejudice in any such case to rights accrued in respect of deliveries already made.
